WHAT IS TIGE

TIGE (Trust & Integrity in the Global Economy) is an annual conference, a community and a global movement driven by the best in individuals' motives. It is a platform for all stakeholders in the global economy, who wish to inspire, connect and encourage businesses and individuals to act according to their core values, and contribute to an equitable society and humane world.

WHO WE ARE

TIGE is a programme of Initiatives of Change (IofC), a world-wide network of people of diverse cultures and backgrounds, who are committed to the transformation of society through changes in human motives and behaviour. It focuses on the vital link between personal and global change.

Collective Leadership for Societal transformation

“In a world that is growing in interconnectedness and interdependence, social challenges are growing in complexity.

This is the time where key alliances between major players need to be formed under a systemic and holistic approach. Each player has a piece of the solution; therefore the time for collective orchestrated efforts is now”.

In this workstream we will explore collective intelligence tools and processes highlighting new and innovative approaches to collective leadership for societal transformation. The exploration will also incorporate examples and success stories of organizations around the world including Initiatives of Change projects, showing the vital link between individual and societal transformation.

This is an invitation to explore, share and co-create new ways of working in complex social eco-systems. We seek to bring together key people, groups and organizations on a quest to build synergies around a common purpose and build alliances between change makers.

Workstream leader

Juan Carlos Kaiten (Mexico) is a social artist focusing on global collective intelligence, leadership development, social networks and organizational transformation. He holds a Masters in Leadership and Sustainability at Blekinge Institute of Technology, Sweden, and has extensive experience in business and social entrepreneurship in Mexico and abroad. He is the founder of Eleven Mexico, an NGO fostering collective actions for social well-being, and is a member of The Hague Center, an organization based in the Netherlands with its main focus on Global Governance, Innovation and Emergence.

Aims of the Workstream

- Share and explore inspiring examples of societal transformation;
- Identify advanced and innovative technologies and strategies for collective leadership that underpin societal transformation;

Who Should Attend

This workstream appeals to those committed and contributing to architect a world that works for all. These include change makers within business and the economy as well as community and government leaders.

Impact of Workstream

(What we want to achieve in medium term)

Establish a platform for a community of practice to support knowledge, strengthen communication and synergy between change makers towards whole systems change actions.
